DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-3, 6-10, 12-17, 19, and 20 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claim 1:

The closest prior art of record, Ogawa, discloses a user-entered first password. Tanaka discloses a unique non-user prescribed second password. In the previous Office Action, Ogawa in view of Tanaka was relied upon to teach two passwords. However, Ogawa in view of Tanaka does not disclose associating or linking the two passwords with each other (although Ogawa does disclose linking the first password to the disc ID). This element in combination with the other elements of the claim renders it allowable over the prior art of record.

Regarding claims 2, 3, 6-10, 12, and 13:

They are allowable due to their dependence on claim 1.

Regarding claim 14:

The closest prior art of record, Ogawa in view of Tanaka, does not disclose wherein that the user-created password is associated in a linking manner with the disc password such that the user can enter the user-created password to again playback the disc. This element in combination with the other elements of the claim renders it allowable over the prior art of record.

Regarding claims 15-17 and 19:

These claims are allowable due to their dependence on claim 14.

Regarding claim 20:

This claim contains language similar to the allowable language of claim 14: this element in combination with the other elements of the claim renders it allowable over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Nielsen (US 6,006,333) and Fang et al. (US 6,243,816) both disclose linking passwords with one another.
